Hackathon

Our Hackathon presents an invaluable opportunity for 25-30 of your prospective buyers to sample your product first-hand over the space of an entire day.

Participants from either law firms, in-house legal teams (depending on your target audience) will be divided into 4-5 teams with appointed team leaders. A panel of judges (composed of leading names from the legal industry) will formulate a problem for each team. The teams will then compete to solve their set task using solely your solution.

A chance to sponsor a highly successful hackathon series which saw participation from senior decision makers from over ten top tier law firms last year.

An opportunity to invite 2 existing clients and have them interact with new target clients during the event.

An opportunity to demo your product to your target clients on multiple instances before the hackathon as a preparatory step.

The sponsor will also get a chance to give a brief stand-alone product demo to launch the hackathon.

The sponsorship package includes three delegate passes to the main conference.

The winning team will be presented with a prize from the sponsors and will be announced live during the main conference.
